Impressed with the strength and the clarity of John Downer's personal 'thick/thin' signwriting style, a fitness magazine commissioned a single weight of Roxy in 1990 to stress its headlines. Mildly compact widths and moderate contrast in the American tradition separate Roxy from the wider Britannic and Radiant. Three years later, Downer and the Font Bureau staff expanded Roxy to six styles for a full, versatile series; FB 1990–93

GRUMPY WIZARDS MAKE TOXIC BREW FOR THE EVIL QUEENS & JACKS. LAZY MOVER QUIT HARD PACKING of the papier-mâché jewelry boxes. Back here at my quaint garden: jaunty zinnias vie with the flaunting phlox. Hark! 4,872 toxic jungle water vipers quietly drop on zebras for meals! New farm hand (picked just six quinces) proves strong but lazy. For only about $65, jolly housewives made 'inexpensive' meals using quick frozen vegetables. Jaded zombies acted quaintly but kept driving their 31 oxen forward. At my one grand prix, J. Blatz was equally vilified for his funky ways. My grandfather spent his day quickly carving wax buzzards, mostly from junk. If we go back to Juarez, Mexico, might we fly over picturesque Arizona? Murky haze enveloped a city as these jarring quakes broke forty-six windows. Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs. Will Major Douglas be expected to take this true/false quiz very soon? A mad box
